

Happy Ending for Professor's Story

Ham on Rye: Let It Be

Remember the Case of the Absent-Minded Professor and the valuable brief-case he lost between Hope and Texarkana on the eve of the Fourth of July? Well, it all turned out O. K., for we received the following letter Thursday night:

Editor The Star: I want to thank you very much for your assistance in giving publicity to the story of my lost briefcase, and to tell you that your newspaper account has had a happy sequel.

In the same mail with the copy of the newspaper which you sent me was a letter from Mr. Walter Sibley, Route 4, Box 877, Texarkana. The briefcase had been found in front of Mr. Sibley's cafe, and the finder had brought it in to him. Seeing the newspaper ad about the loss — I also advertised in a Texarkana paper and I imagine Mr. Sibley saw the ads in both papers — he wrote me to arrange for sending me the briefcase. I might add that Mr. Sibley suggested I send a small reward for the actual finder of the briefcase, asking for himself only the expense of mailing.

I was naturally overjoyed to learn that I am to get back some research materials so valuable to me. It was also very warming to have such evidence of the helpfulness and honesty of the citizens of your part of the country. Let me express again my appreciation to you for your kindness. Sincerely yours,

And here's a crisp guest editorial on something close to the American heart:

LET THE HAM ON RYE ALONE
(Shreveport Times)

A woman, named Kay Savage, cooking expert for the Detroit Free Press, proposes that the good old American institution known as the ham sandwich be given a bit of beauty treatment. She wants it cut up in fancy designs and a bit of this and that added in the manner of those sewing circle sweet cookies with bits of cherries on top. We arise in horror and indignation to protest. In the first place the ham sandwich is not something for a woman to discuss — even a cooking expert woman. It takes a plain male glutton to understand the real values of a ham sandwich — and to make one. Ham sandwiches are meant only for persons of great stomach capacity and true appreciation of quantity as a foundation of sensible diet. They are not meant to be little nibbles for church socials or afternoon feminine bridge brawls.

First of all, no ham but baked ham should be used in a ham sandwich. That pressed "sandwich" stuff is for the birds and the sissies. The ham should be sliced a quarter inch thick and in large dimensions as can be cut. Ham should always hang over the edges of the bread for at least two inches in all directions. Several slabs of quarter-inch ham are okay for a true devotee of pig on rye. Of course the bread should be rye — not graham or "brown." Good old rye, with those seed things in it and really crisp crust.

After adjusting ham to the bread with generous smearings of butter, mustard should be splashed over the ham; splashed, daubed, dribbled, smeared — thickly so that some of it drips down to the edges and eventually attaches itself to the face of the eater. Innumerable slices of sliced pickles come next and that's all. None of this cat food mayonnaise, or rabbit diet lettuce, or such things. Just ham, rye, butter, mustard and a man who knows what to do about such things. We suggest that Miss Savage keep her nose out of such strictly stag events as ham on rye and confine herself to omelette souffle. That or get married — she must be "Miss" and single, for otherwise she'd have learned long ago what a man wants in a ham sandwich.

To Learn How School Money Is Divided

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A report on how Arkansas school districts use new money appropriated by the 1953 Legislature for teachers' salaries will be submitted Dec. 1 at the request of a Benton County legislator.

Education Commissioner Arch Ford told the Arkansas Legislative Council's Education Committee yesterday that he would prepare the data, requested by Rep. Clayton Little.

He said he was "fully in accord" with Little in believing that most of the increase should go for larger teachers' salaries.

Little had said that although districts had a "moral obligation" to use the money for teachers' salaries, he feared some would divert it to other purposes.

The Legislature revised a formula for distributing teacher aid funds to individual districts, which — with additional money available — was expected to amount to annual raises of $275 for each teacher.

Blast From Ike Brings Firing of McCarthy's Aid

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — A vigorous blast from President Eisenhower, fired over the head of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), has blown J. B. Matthews out of the investigating job in which McCarthy has sought to keep him.

"Alien to America," the President said in obvious reference to the statement in a magazine article by Matthews that 7,000 Protestant clergymen are "the largest single group supporting the Communist apparatus" in this country.

McCarthy promptly accepted the resignation of Matthews, whom he has called "a star spangled American," as executive staff director of the Senate investigations subcommittee which the Wisconsin senator heads.

The fast breaking developments which marked Matthews' departure underscored seemingly strained relations between Eisenhower and McCarthy, who several times have seemed on the verge of head-on collisions.

McCarthy, for years the center of controversy in Washington, was simultaneously involved in two other brushes with the administration. These came when the senator:

1. Moved to call before his subcommittee top officials of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), including Director Allen Dulles, for some possibly explosive questioning.

McCarthy accused Dulles, a brother of Eisenhower's secretary of state, of refusing to let the McCarthy subcommittee question a CIA employee.

2. Aimed sharp criticism at a new State Department directive declaring that some Communist writers' books may be used in the U. S. overseas libraries. He got a swift reply indicating the department intends to stick to its guns.

Volcanoes in Alaska Threat to Over 100

By CLIFF CERNICK

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UP) — Ash and dust from three erupting volcanoes plunged 20,000 square miles of Western Alaska into darkness today, disrupting communication and possibly endangering the lives of 100 persons in a remote fishing village.

The volcanoes began erupting early yesterday sending clouds of hot ashes falling like black snow over a vast area. The explosions were the most severe in more than 40 years.

The volcanic dust completely blacked out Anchorage, a city of 50,000, for several hours. Work came to a standstill while residents stood on the streets gazing at the ash fall.

Fears were expressed for the safety of 100 residents of the fishing village of Tyonek, about 50 miles southwest of Anchorage. There were unconfirmed reports the village was in the path of a huge cloud of hot ashes. However, there were no reports of a lava flow.

The three volcanoes were Mt. Spurr, a 11,069-foot peak, Mt. Tabor, a 10,600-foot peak and an unidentified mountain. They sent their curtains of ashes and smoke as high as 50,000 feet into the air.

Air Force officials called the eruptions "unparalleled since the Katmai explosion of 1912." At that time, dust and ash threw a partial blackout over 10,000 square miles of Western Alaska.

Mt. Everest, 29,000 feet high, could be submerged in the Mariana Trench, southwest of Guam.

Bachelors Cause More Old Maids, Women Say Only Good Bachelor Is a Married One

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — You know what causes more old maids than anything? Bachelors.

All women are convinced the only good bachelor is a former bachelor. They aren't really sporting about their hunting. They not only hate the ones that get away from them. They resent seeing a bachelor escape from another girl.

A young lady who returned empty-handed from a recent June matrimonial safari complained to me:

"To get married today a girl practically has to grab a boy while the ink is still wet on his high school diploma. The older men get the more frightened they seem to be of marriage, and after 30 they seem to think it is illegal or undesirable or something."

"Just what is wrong with bachelors? Are they afraid to grow up?"

Hope Native Is New Mayor of Kingsport, Tenn.

A Hope native, John D. Wimberly whose family resided on West Avenue B, was elected Mayor of Kingsport, Tennessee on Wednesday, July 8. His selection was unanimous by his fellow members of the Board and of Mayor and Aldermen.

From Kingsport comes the report that the new Mayor is vice-president of Mason & Dixon Lines, Inc., and became a member of the board several months ago when he was appointed by other members to will the unexpired term of alderman.

A former insurance man, Wimberly is a specialist on traffic safety. He has served as president of City (Kingsport) Transportation Co., Kiwanis Club president, Red Cross and Salvation Army director and member of the Board of Stewards of the Broad Street Methodist Church of Kingsport.

15 Perish in California Forest Fire

WILLOWS, Calif. (AP) — Fifteen men were reported to have perished in an explosively violent fire in Mendocino National Forest during the night.

The information came from the local county sheriff's office. It was told that thirteen of the dead were members of New Tribes Mission, a religious organization with missionaries in remote places of the Americas.

The other two were federal forest service men.

Buildings were pushing trials into the forest this morning in an attempt to remove the bodies.

Thirteen, which started yesterday, on, whipped into an uncontrollable fire as it crowned through 800 acres of scrub oak, chaparral and brush about 30 miles east of Willows, and some eight miles east of Alder Springs.

The firefighters moved in as smoke and flames were seen at about 3:15 p. m. yesterday.

There seemed no reason for unusual concern. But during the night the blaze developed with furious and bewildering speed and the men were trapped.

Villains Take Count at Weekly Match

A fairly large crowd, almost as wild as the wrestlers at times, saw Eddie Williams and Tony Borne battle to draw last night in the Livestock show Coliseum in the opening match.

In the second 20-minute contest Doug Henson got the decision over Mario Galento in a hectic tangle that saw the referee get about as many knocks as the fighters.

Then came the tag match that paired Williams and Henson against Borne and Galento, the villains. The crowd enjoyed the first fall which was the most exciting and ended up with couple of punches thrown outside the ring. Williams and Henson, the crowd favorites, got the decision.

Former Emmet Man Dies in Texas

Price Supports on Cattle Asked of President

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — President Eisenhower, on a surprise flying visit to the drought disaster conference of seven governors, today faced spokesmen for cattlemen demanding federal price supports.

Some 500 embattled Southwestern stockmen from five states formed a new organization in a meeting at nearby Dabhart yesterday. They urged the federal government to put a price support program for cattle into operation at once. The split in the ranks of the cattlemen came after charges that oil-rich ranchers "who can afford rugged individualism" run the big livestock associations.

In Washington, the Senate and House yesterday approved different bills to grant emergency loans of more than $2,500 to individual farmers and ranchers in the drought area.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arkansas congressmen were told again yesterday that the Agriculture Department will not institute a price support or purchase program for livestock.

All 6 Arkansans representatives — Norrell, Gathings, Hays, Mills, Harris and Trimble — conferred with Secretary of Agriculture Benson yesterday, urging him to speed up his drought relief program.

Rep. Trimble said Benson reiterated his previous stand against livestock price supports.

He quoted the Secretary, however, as saying that he expects an announcement next week on Arkansas counties to be included in the drought disaster area. The Arkansas Agriculture Mobilization Committee yesterday recommended to the Department that 47 Arkansas counties receive aid.

In describing Benson's rejection of price supports, Trimble said "he seemed to feel that the Department's program which passed the House, would be adequate."

The Department program includes purchase of processed beef, supplying feed to farmers and stockmen at half price, and favorable-term loans to those unable to get credit elsewhere.

State Dept. Stands Firm on Policy

By EDWARD E. BOMAR

WASHINGTON — The State Department stood its ground today in the face of Sen. McCarthy's attack on its new declaration that U. S. overseas libraries can stock some Communist-written books.

"Completely ridiculous," was the way the Wisconsin Republican described the department's policy or stance.

Yesterday, he sent a sharp summons to Dr. Robert L. Johnson to appear in defense of the order next Wednesday before the Senate investigations subcommittee which McCarthy heads.

At Johnson, retiring chief of the International Information Agency (IIA) which operates the 139 libraries in 63 foreign countries, quickly served notice he does not plan to budge.

In a statement last night, Johnson said the libraries "are in business to advance American democracy, not Communist conspiracy." Agreeing with McCarthy that Communist authors do not speak affirmatively for democracy he said:

"It would be unwise to foreclose the opportunity of using to serve affirmatively the ends of democracy, something that a Communist has written for an entirely different purpose."

"In some cases the most effective way to refute propaganda of the Communist may be to turn the words of their own writers against them."

But it was warm weather again in the Gulf Coastal states, Florida and most of the states west of the Rocky Mountains. Showers and thunderstorms occurred during the night along the warm and cool frontal boundary which extends from South Carolina to Northern Louisiana and into Oklahoma and Colorado.

Fire Destroys Nashville Cafe

NASHVILLE (AP) — A restaurant, a photographic studio and a new car agency were damaged by a fire that raged for about three hours on Nashville's main street last night.

Damage was estimated at between $75,000 and $90,000 by Fire Chief Ray Kennedy who said the fire started in the Plaza Cafe.

The blaze was discovered by passersby, he said, shooting from a skylight in the closed cafe, which adjoins the Ramage Studios and Ball's Chevrolet Co.

Firemen played water over 15 tubes of butane gas, stored in the rear of the cafe, to keep them from exploding, the chief said.

The blaze, discovered at 5:30 p. m. was extinguished by 9:25 p. m.

Extended Forecast

Extended Forecast (Friday-Wednesday) — Temperatures will average near normal with no important changes. Precipitation generally moderate in scattered thundershowers.

Sectional — Clear to partly cloudy this afternoon, tonight and Saturday with widely scattered thundershowers. Central Arkansas, highest temperature this afternoon 86 to 88, lowest tonight 65 to 68; northeast Arkansas, highest temperature this afternoon in mid-80's, lowest tonight 60 to 65; southeast and southwest Arkansas, highest temperatures this afternoon near 90, lowest tonight 65 to 70; north and west Arkansas, highest temperature this afternoon in mid-80's, lowest tonight 60 to 70.

Group Decides Against Melon Festival

Chamber President, Ben Owen, announced today that the Board of Directors of Hope Chamber of Commerce have decided that the chamber would not sponsor a Watermelon festival this year.

The Board's decision, according to Mr. Owen, was based upon their first hand information from various watermelon growers and other people. The Agricultural Committee was called in to assist in giving the board additional information on which to base a decision.

One of the primary factors in the decision is the extended drought throughout the area, which is cutting the crop short and which, in all probability, help to sustain the price paid to the grower. It is felt that a more effective way of assisting in advertising and promoting Hope watermelons can be devised.

According to Mitchell Sparks, Chairman is engaging itself in laying market plans for the next season.

Girl's School Head Resigns, Meet Called

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Board of Trustees of the Arkansas Girls Training School meets at Collegeville today amid speculation that it will resign over its superintendent, Mrs. Maxine Coghill.

Mrs. Coghill said last night that she had submitted her resignation.

"Because I think Gov. Cherry wants me to go."

She said she had submitted her resignation Friday and that she has received neither acceptance nor refusal from the governor's office. She also said that 17 staff members at the school would leave the institution with her on Aug. 1.

The Arkansas Gazette said last night that the Board would resign today after it had received no answer to its request to meet with Gov. Cherry to discuss the resignation.

At Texarkana, the Rev. C. D. Farrell, chairman, said that the report "is untrue." He said a meeting with the governor had been cancelled and "things are expected to take definite shape next week." The chairman declined to elaborate.

Gov. Cherry said he had planned to meet with the Board this morning, but was forced to cancel the session to go to Amarillo, Tex. for a meeting of governors with President Eisenhower.

He said that he had not taken any action on the resignation and did not plan to do so until he met with the Board "sometime next week."

More Rain Is Predicted

U. S., South Korea Virtually Agreed on Compromise Plan for Korean War Armistice

SEOUL, Korea, Saturday, (UP)

South Korea and the United States have reached virtual agreement on a compromise armistice plan, reliable sources reported today.

President Syngman Rhee and Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson were reported to have completed the main part of their conversations to remove South Korean opposition to a settlement of the three-year-old Korean war.

Sources close to the Rhee-Robertson "little truce" talks said neither side got all it wanted and neither gave irrevocable guarantees. They have, however, reached tentative basic agreement, it was reported.

Rhee had held out for a three-month time limit on a post-armistice political conference to unify Korea and a mutual security pact with the United States.

Sources said the agreement may not satisfy the Communists, who were reported demanding that the United Nations use military force to hold Rhee in line.

But the reports were the most optimistic since three weeks ago when Rhee upset the all but signed truce agreement by ordering the release of 27,000 anti-Communist North Korean prisoners.

It appeared that the compromise agreement worked out by Rhee and Robertson would give U. N. Commander Gen. Mark W. Clark sufficient ground on which to assure the Communists South Korea would go along with a truce.

However, it was believed here that the United States and South Korea failed to get the irrevocable guarantees from each other that both sides wanted.

It was understood that the United States had not given Rhee an irrevocable guarantee to fight on in the event the post-armistice political conference failed to unify Korea.

McCarthy at Odds With CIA Director

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Director Allen Dulles of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) arranged to talk over privately today the question of whether McCarthy's investigators can question Dulles and two of his aides.

McCarthy told newsmen Dulles requested the conference, which could set the stage for a clash between the Senate investigations subcommittee and the extremely hush-hush CIA.

Dulles, a brother of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, was accused by McCarthy in a Senate speech yesterday of blocking the subcommittee's investigation of a key CIA official.

McCarthy, who is chairman of the subcommittee into session today to consider issuing subpoenas to summon Allen Dulles, William P. Bundy and Walter

News Briefs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department wants Congress to authorize expenditure of an additional 25 million dollars for construction at three military installations in Arkansas.

The Arkansas jobs and money requested yesterday included: Naval Ammunition Depot near Camden, 11,127,000; Hightyville Air Force base, $6,070,000 and the Little Rock Air Force base 14,219.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Westerners today abandoned efforts to alter the base period for determining share cotton acreage allotments and instead urged Congress to approve a plan proposed by the Farm Bureau Federation.

The shift came as the Senate Agriculture Committee, holding hearings on cotton legislation in view of expected average allotments in 1954, heard from Southwesterners who are opposed to the original Western proposal.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Legislative Council today offered its services in an effort to end a difference of opinion between the Arkansas Highway Commission and the Arkansas County Judges Association on Highway right-of-way policy.

The Council voted to hold a special meeting on July 31 and ask the Highway Commission, Highway Director Herbert Eldridge and the Executive Committee of the County Judges Association to attend.

CARNOUSTIE, England (AP) — Ben Hogan, golf's living legend, won the British Open championship on his first try today, shooting a record 68 on the last round for a 72-hole score of 282. He had rounds of 73-71-70-68 — 282 for the second lowest score in the tournament's history.

Planes Come to Aid of U. S. Infantry

By ROBERT GIBSON
SEOUL (AP) — Waves of bomb-laden American warplanes swarmed to the aid of Allied infantry and artillerymen today in the struggle for Porkchop Hill and Arrowhead Ridge in Western Korea.

Low-flying jet fighter-bombers flew more than 200 front-line missions by early afternoon, hurling tons of explosives and fiery jets of gasoline into Communist trenches which Allied shells and foot soldiers failed to knock out in four days of wild, see-saw fighting.

Booming artillery shells scattered some 400 Reds who landed the dug-in Americans. U. S. soldiers hurled the Communists down the slopes of the Allied-held height in savage hand-to-hand fighting. The Reds still had a hold on part of the hill.

Another fierce battle raged a mile to the northeast where South Korean soldiers held off attacking Reds.

An Allied artillery observer said one shell killed or wounded every one of 100 Chinese troops pulling off a western finger of Porkchop Hill.

Murky skies limited all action to the front, as daytime temperatures reached a sweltering 93 degrees Thursday, the hottest since August.

All Around the Town

By The Star Staff

Fires seem to be taking a toll in our neighboring cities. . . . At Prescott Wednesday night a dairy barn containing about 1,000 bales of hay burned on the W. R. Peachey dairy farm and at Nashville Thursday fire destroyed Plaza Cafe, damaged a warehouse, photo studio and auto body repair shop with total loss estimated at $50,000.

Three local men walking downtown this morning saw a sign on a magazine salesman's truck listing as top feature in a favorite magazine this month the "Eight Reasons Why Marriages End in Divorce" . . . for obvious reasons name will be withheld of the one who declared, "I don't have to read that. . . I can think of a thousand reasons easily."

Mrs. Oliver Adams attended the Arkansas PTA Institute for directors, she is the district head, at Little Rock July 7 and Mrs. F. J. Holt, State Historian, attended the executive committee conference the following day.

A group headed by Claud Gurner is supposed to start making arrangements to drill for oil in a couple of weeks somewhere near Washington. . . . to be associated with Gurner will be T. W. Murray of San Angelo, former Arkansas, and two Washington men, R. Rowe and Nelson Frazier.

Not too long ago this city had very few tourist courts there. Cain built a small one on Third and a few years later came Arkan near the overpass. . . . these were added to the older Oaks and Davis courts at opposite ends of town. . . . now three are going up, Boile's court is already in operation west of Hope a couple of miles, Charles Tarpley is building a few cabins at his East Third Street station and Plaza Courts also near the overpass on Highway 67 will soon be open for business. . . . all of which shows some people recognize the value of tourist trade.

 A statement read to a news conference by Press Officer Lincoln White said:
 "An ambassador, who has been and reported the probable elimination of Dulles's views, is now returning to the United States in order that the Secretary of State may have the opportunity of personal consultation with him relative to developments in the U. S. U. while the foreign ministers' conference is in session."

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The down-fall of Lavrenti V. Beria as head of the Soviet secret police, the powerful man presented this challenging question today for the Big Three Western foreign ministers: does it forebode any change in Soviet foreign policy?
 In immediate reaction to last night's Moscow announcement of Beria's expulsion from government and Communist party posts, experts appeared somewhat divided on this critical point.
 There was some thought here that Beria might be made the scapegoat for policies which permitted the recent uprisings against Communist rule in East Germany. But other opinion held that Beria's fate should be considered primarily as a dramatic incident in Soviet internal politics.
 At any rate, the development gave new urgency to the Big Three talks between Secretary of State Dulles, acting British Foreign Secretary Lord Salisbury and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of France, whose conference opens tomorrow. The secretary said he hoped to see Dulles first.

 Dulles, son-in-law of former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, was described by McCarthy in his late speech as "one of the most officials in the agency."
 McCarthy said Dulles had been paid $400 in the Alger Hiss case, and he was being considered for the job of liaison officer to the National Security Council, of which President Eisenhower is chairman, and the Atomic Energy Commission.
 He said a former State Department employee, in serving sentence for perjury, he was convicted of lying under oath in drawing he named U. S. secrets to a Red courier.
 McCarthy said the liaison official between the CIA and the Soviet government.
 McCarthy said Dulles had been this afternoon (about 2 p. m. EST).
 One of their concerns is to analyze what has recently been happening in East Germany, what Russian intentions are and what the Western Powers may be able to do to take advantage of the situation.
 On one aspect of the Berlin affair, U. S. officials were in full agreement. That is that Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov is acting decisively and ruthlessly to consolidate his power as Stalin's successor.
 It was noted that Malenkov presented to the Communist party's Central Committee a report on Beria's alleged criminal activities in the interest of "foreign capital" which led to Beria's expulsion from the party.
 The deposed leader also lost his job as first deputy chairman of the Council of Ministers and as minister for home affairs, the position which gave him control of Malenkov and there, as in the government, his position was considered second only to that of the Premier.
 Speculation about possible effects on Soviet foreign policy arose from the theory that, as Malenkov succeeds in security his hold on Soviet power, he may take a tougher line abroad. It was also believed the reference to "foreign capital" may be the beginning of a new propaganda campaign against the U. S.
 And since things have gone badly for the Russians in Germany under recent Soviet policy, it is not inconceivable what Beria may be blamed for any mistakes which Malenkov thinks were made. Policy changes could follow.

stated to testify before his committee. McCarthy said he had dis- refuse to allow any of its employees to testify before the committee. But at the last, McCarthy said, "I think the policy of the CIA is to commit."

Those taking part will be Misses Sara Lauterbach, Beth Bridgers and Judy Hammons. Miss Bennie Jean Emlanson will give the devotion.

Miss Murphy Feted at Luncheon-Bridge
Miss Roberta Howard entertained with a luncheon-bridge Wednesday, July 8, at 12 noon for the pleasure of Miss Betty Murphy, bride-elect of Joseph Leon Martindale.

Lunch was served buffet style to the twelve guests present who were out of town relatives and members of the bridal party. The table covered with an Italian cut-work cloth was centered with a cut glass epergne filled with pink carnations and white tulips. Each small table was centered with pink gardenias floating in a low cut glass bowl. The color scheme of pink and silver was carried out in the decorations throughout the house.

Mrs. John Brannan and Mrs. S. L. Murphy, mother of the honoree, were winners of the prizes.

The honoree was a trousseau frock of orchid cotton with matching hat. Her corsage was of pink Fleur d'Amour.

The hostess was assisted in service by Mrs. Arch Moore.

Circle 6 of WSCS Meets With Mrs. Peck
Circle No. 6 of the WSCS of the First Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. George Peck Monday afternoon, July 6.

The meeting opened with prayer by the leader, Mrs. George Peck. It was decided to have the August meeting at the church. Mrs. James McLarty, Jr., gave an inspiring devotional using 1st John 1:18. Mrs. R. L. Branch was in charge of the program on the "Work of the WSCS" and used a poster to help illustrate her talk. She led a group discussion in which each member took part.

At the close of the program the hostess invited the guests into the dining room where they were served tea from an appointed table which was centered with an arrangement of lilies and calladium leaves. Mrs. George Peck presided over the punch bowl. Twelve members and five guests were present.

Mrs. J. W. Perkins Hostess to Circle 1
Circle 1 of WSCS of the Methodist Church met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Perkins with Mrs. J. H. Wiggins as co-hostess.

The meeting opened with the Lord's Prayer being repeated in unison. Mrs. P. H. Webb, circle chairman, presided and conducted a short business session.

Mrs. Sam Wainack presented the program in the form of a quiz on "Know Your WSCS." Each member took part by answering a question.

Refreshments and cookies were served to 12 members and one guest, Mrs. Henry Taylor.

DOROTHY DIX

Pangs of Hunger

Dear Miss Dix: Whenever my boy friend comes over he brings at least one of his friends. I don't object to that, but they always get into the food. Gordon says that whenever his sister has friends over, she fixes food for them. I don't intend to be their slave, and besides, I do get heck for it. How can I make them stay out of the kitchen?

KITCHEN RAIDERS

Answer: Your friends are certainly inconsiderate youngsters. Even the most generous hostess has reasonable objections to her young guests swarming all over the kitchen, devouring whatever is in sight. It's rather disconcerting to plan a meal, then discover that your hungry wolf pack. Instead of giving you heck for your friends' behavior, you should give a little help. Certain foods should be kept in the house for the refreshment of the young, and a definite "No Snacks" sign put on everything else. Unless your friends are interested in you for food alone, they will obey the restrictions and continue to come around.

Dear Miss Dix: My 25-year-old sister has never been married, yet she is wasting her life away on a divorced man. Religion prevents their marrying. She realizes this, but insists he is the only man she will ever love, and she'd rather be friends with him than married to anyone else. I try to tell her he is a selfish person as he realizes the situation, yet prevents her from going out with other fellows. If he liked her so much, he'd be looking out for her happiness. Should she go on seeing him or drop him completely?

MISS R. M.

Answer: Isn't it a bit foolish for you and I to try to decide your sister's future? She is most definitely of an age where she should know her own mind, and make her own decisions. Happiness in friendship may be enough for your sister, and it certainly is preferable to marriage with someone she doesn't love. Don't put all the blame on the man, either. Your sister is perfectly free to date other men if she wants to; the fact that she doesn't is a clear indication of her choice. Leave her alone and let her work out her own destiny.

Dear Miss Dix: I am engaged to a man in the service, but plan to break the engagement when he comes home, which will be in a few weeks. I am in love with someone else, and he thinks we should stop seeing each other until my engagement is broken. I don't want to date anyone else, but I don't want to sit home every night.

R. P.

Answer: With your conscience for company, I don't wonder you can't face an evening alone. You can't have much character if your self-respect, and the respect of others, isn't worth a few dateless weeks. Your only concern seems to be your own need for entertainment. The boy in the service is lucky to be rid of so addle-pated

WSCS Circle 2 of the First Methodist Church was entertained Monday afternoon by Mrs. Dan Pittman, Sr., at her home.

Mrs. Mary B. Smith was welcomed as a new member. There were 18 members and a guest, Mrs. Nona Matthews also present.

Mrs. L. C. Gullin opened the meeting with prayer followed with the devotional talk by Mrs. C. A. Wynne.

The program on "Laborers for Christ" was in charge of Mrs. A. E. Pearson.

Mrs. J. B. Hesterly, chairman, presided over the business after which the meeting adjourned with the Aaronic benediction.

During the social hour fruit punch and cookies were served by the hostess.

WSCS Circle 3 Meets in
Home of Mrs. B. A. DeLamar

Eight members of Circle 3 of the WSCS of the First Methodist Church met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. B. A. DeLamar for the regular meeting.

Mrs. Lee Kinney, chairman, presided and conducted the business.

An inspiring devotional was given by Mrs. Joe A. Bailey, Sr. The program for the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. Wayne Eley, who spoke on "Laborers for Christ."

Mrs. Eley offered the closing prayer.

Punch and sandwiches were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. White Hostess to WSCS Circle 4
Mrs. J. A. White was hostess to Circle 4 of WSCS of the First Methodist Church at her home Monday afternoon.

The chairman, Mrs. O. G. Hirst, had charge of the business and gave the afternoon's devotional thought.

The program on "Laborers for Christ" was presented in an interesting manner by Mrs. W. B. Sage.

Mrs. Hirst closed the meeting with prayer.

Punch and cookies were served to 13 members and a guest, Mrs. Meredith Bright at the conclusion of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kinney and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Kinney and Barbara of Dalton, Ga., and Pat Warren Kinney of Ft. Sil, Okla., have returned from a vacation on Lake Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Nelson have returned from Havana where they attended the funeral services for Mr. Nelson's father, M. M. Nelson.

Friends of Miss Joan Bright will be glad to learn her condition is reported satisfactory following eye surgery in a Texarkana hospital. Her mother, Mrs. Brad Bright, is at her bedside.

Dr. Charles Hesterly was a Monday business visitor in Little Rock.

Miss Ann McSwain returned to Memphis Monday after a weekend visit with her parents, Mr. and a girl; your next fiancé isn't so fortunate.

Dear Miss Dix: I'm a pretty, intelligent girl with a nice figure. I'm 15 and in the 9th grade. My problem is very serious. I have gotten a bad reputation, not because it's true, but because I have many jealous, so-called friends with big mouths. They have spread all sorts of stories about me and now none of the nice girls or boys will go out with me.

JOANIE

Answer: Rarely, if ever, is a bad reputation placed on a girl unless she has done something to deserve it. If you are absolutely convinced that you are the victim of malicious slander, the matter should be taken up with your parents and the principal of your school.

However, I'm quite certain, if you analyze the situation carefully, you'll come across some ground for gossip. Do you, perhaps, wear plaster that new figure with clothing that's a bit too conspicuous?

Is your dating circumspect — reasonable as to hours, particularly as to company and place? Time spent in parked cars, or in the wrong sort of restaurant or soda bar, the companionship of young people who are known as trouble makers, will detract from any girl's reputation. Nothing is as difficult to regain as a good name; better find out just why yours is bad.

how they never would. "People have got the wrong idea about bachelors," said one. "They think they are sad, lonely and helpless. But when you see a guy like that he isn't a real bachelor. He's just a prospective husband."

"A true bachelor is happy and carefree. A married man has two bosses — one at home, one in the office. A bachelor has to please only one. And he leads a crowded social life. He is always in demand. Any party is considered dull, even by wives, unless the hostess has a bachelor or two on tap."

Another bachelor broke in: "It isn't true that bachelors hate women. Nobody loves and appreciates them more. A bachelor just refuses to be a watchdog for any one woman."

"Amen, brother!" chorused his fellow soundtracks.

What basic reason did they have for not marrying?

"Wives insist on treating their husbands like small boys," said one. "They want to mother them. If a wife wants to take the place of one of your parents, why doesn't she let your father? Our father used to leave you alone most of the time."

CHAPTER TWENTY

AS MANNING lay there, dazed, the door swung inward, and blood trickled along Galt's jaw. The consciousness had gone out of the man, but not the hate; it was there still on the hard face.

Cautionally Manning came into the dark cellar and knowing what Laura's fear would be, he said quietly, "It's me—Cole." He groped to her and began working at the rope. He was wooden fingered, slow at the job, and he'd been so busy that he'd not had time to get his gun.

"Laura asked, 'What happened?' He made it short. 'He wanted a chance at me, gun to gun. He cut me loose to get that chance. I closed him with my gun.'"

"Laura asked, 'What happened?' He made it short. 'He wanted a chance at me, gun to gun. He cut me loose to get that chance. I closed him with my gun.'"

"Laura asked, 'What happened?' He made it short. 'He wanted a chance at me, gun to gun. He cut me loose to get that chance. I closed him with my gun.'"

BROKEN VOWS

A Vow Is A Serious Thing

Our promise and your performance reveal the quality of your soul.

A promise will make a friend but performance will keep him. Are you keeping your marriage vows, your vows to your church or synagog? When you make vows to God, do you keep them or do you go AWOL on Him? "When thou shalt vow a vow unto the Lord thy God, thou shalt not slack to pay it, for the Lord thy God will surely require it of thee." Faithful performance of good vows strengthens character, honors God and makes a better citizen.

These Days

E. Sokolsky

The Office of Strategic Services was the most secretive arm of government during World War II. Its head was General William J. Donovan, better known as "Wild Bill," a lawyer with an excellent reputation. One of his chief associates was Allen Dulles, brother of J. Edgar Hoover, an able lawyer and a man of outstanding knowledge of European affairs. Donovan and Dulles are Republicans. Dulles is now the head of the Central Intelligence Agency, the successor to the OSS.

As testimony unfolds before Congressional committees, a number of witnesses who now take refuge in the Fifth Amendment on questions of subversion or espionage were, in World War II, closely connected with the OSS. The question arises how such persons were permitted to join the OSS. Were they double spies? Were they using this connection to spy on this country?

The matter is dead now so far as legal action is concerned, except perhaps on the charge of perjury. Yet, it is important for the United States to know precisely what happened in World War II, so that it may not happen again. The greatest advantage of the Congressional investigations is that Congress may have the background to legislate against a continuation of errors.

Carl Aldo Marzani served in the OSS. He was recently before the Jenner Committee and was asked about his OSS experience. This is the colloquy:

"Mr. Marzani. Who was your superior in the OSS?"

"Mr. Marzani. General Donovan."

"Mr. Marzani. Immediate superior?"

"Mr. Marzani. I claim the privilege, sir."

This is a puzzle. Why would it incriminate Marzani or anybody else to say who was his immediate superior in the OSS or any government job? After all, that must be a matter of record although OSS records are not public. The Fifth Amendment protects Marzani from testifying against himself in a matter involving a statutory crime. This, in a manner, reflects on his superior, for to testify to this fact could only incriminate Marzani if that immediate superior were himself a criminal with whom Marzani conspired against the United States.

Again, here is a puzzle:

"Mr. Marzani. After you were drafted in the Army did you apply for assignment back to OSS?"

"Mr. Marzani. I decline to answer that on the basis of the Fifth Amendment and claim the privilege."

"Mr. Marzani. Even whether or not you were assigned back or you applied for assignment?"

"Mr. Marzani. That is correct."

"Mr. Marzani. Who helped you in being reassigned to the OSS?"

"Mr. Marzani. I claim the privilege."

The answer can only mean that something criminal took place. Otherwise, what is wrong with being asked to be assigned to OSS and for someone in that organization or in the Army to have helped Marzani? The OSS was an honorable and dangerous assignment. Why do answers concerning it incriminate a person? What is the crime?

Of himself, Marzani says:

"... I was one of the men responsible for picking the targets for the raid on Tokyo the Doolittle raid. That came from the Air Force through the Joint Chiefs. It was a regular staff setup."

Senator Johnson, referring to the importance of Marzani's position, asked:

"Do you mean to come before this committee and state you held this responsible position and at the same time you will not say whether or not you were a member of the Communist Party at that time?"

Marzani continued to claim the privilege. His reason was: "... I have been to fail on a frame-up charge, two and a half years. I spent two and a half years on an indictment which was unconstitutional, and in my opinion the Supreme Court of the United States decided four to four it was unconstitutional, and I went to all for two and a half years. So I must be only judge to the best of my knowledge and ability, as to whether it could be put into all again on an indictment which is false and unconstitutional."

Actually Marzani had been ailed on the grounds of perjury in a case involving membership in the Communist Party. He was also associated with "Amerasia." He is now employed by the United Electrical Workers Union which was evicted from the C.I.O. for being a Communist union.

The question is, how did Marzani get into the OSS?
